Re: The Final Exam

---

As you know, I discussed making the final a take-home exam to help with scheduling difficulties that some of you were facing. Unfortunately, I was unable to navigate the system in order to set this up in time. Therefore, the final will have to occur during the specified time, Thursday night at 6 pm.

I apologize for this late notice and the incumbent challenges. For what it's worth, the blame rests solely on my shoulders for not more fully understanding the logistical issues.

See you Thursday.
